Routes

– Fort Lauderdale to Madrid and Rome, and Orlando to Stockholm to launch this fall –

NEW YORK CITY (JUNE 8, 2018) – Norwegian, the World’s Best Low-Cost Long-Haul Airline and Airline of the Year 2017, announced today it will launch three new routes from its existing Florida cities to Europe this fall: Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport to Madrid and Rome; and winter seasonal service from Orlando International Airport to Stockholm.

Norwegian already operates more routes between Florida and Europe than any other airline, and with the addition of these three new routes, passengers now have 13 route options from the Sunshine State to Barcelona, Copenhagen, London, Madrid, Oslo, Paris, Rome and Stockholm. Additionally, Norwegian offers seasonal service from Fort Lauderdale to the French Caribbean islands of Guadeloupe and Martinique.

“We will continue to provide Floridians with affordable travel options to discover Europe. We also look forward to bringing more and more travelers to Florida, supporting the local economy and creating more American jobs, both at Norwegian and in the hospitality industry. It’s a win-win for everyone,” said Bjørn Kjos, Norwegian’s Chief Executive Officer.

The airline has almost 200 cabin crew and pilots stationed at its crew base in Fort Lauderdale, which opened in 2013. With more U.S.-based cabin crew than any other airline, Norwegian is also the only foreign airline recruiting American pilots based in the U.S.

“We are delighted to see our partner, Norwegian Air, expand its presence and commitment at Fort Lauderdale with these new services to the iconic and world-class cities of Rome and Madrid, offering residents in our region exciting new choices,” said Mark Gale, CEO/Director of Aviation, Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport.

Service from Fort Lauderdale to Madrid-Barajas Airport will launch on October 30, 2018, and operate twice per week. Flights to Rome’s Leonardo da Vinci-Fiumicino Airport will launch on October 31, 2018, and operate twice per week. Launch fares to both cities will start as low as $204.90 one-way in Economy, and from $574.90 in Premium, both fares including taxes.

Seasonal service from Orlando to Stockholm Arlanda Airport will launch on October 30, 2018, and operate twice a week until March 29, 2019. Launch fares will start as low as $209.90 one-way in Economy, and from $889.90 in Premium, both fares including taxes.

Norwegian operates one of the world’s youngest fleets, and these three new routes will be operated by brand-new Boeing 787-9 Dreamliner aircraft, offering a Premium and Economy cabin. Premium includes a dedicated check-in counter, fast track security, lounge access at selected airports, large and wide recliner seats with more legroom than any airline's premium economy, all meals and drinks, as well additional checked-in luggage and CashPoints.

All fares are now available for sale on Norwegian's website, Norwegian.com/us. Additionally, the website's Low fare calendar displays the lowest available fares to all of Norwegian's destinations. Passengers on all of Norwegian's routes are eligible to join Norwegian Reward, the airline's loyalty program and can earn CashPoints every time they fly, stay at a hotel or rent a car.
